Commented [EF1]: This is missing from the standard form and I'd assume it needs including.

The author agrees to pay the appropriate article publication charge subject to any waiver granted by The Cochrane Collaboration and John Wiley & Sons, Ltd.

Data sharing: Cochrane requires, as a condition for publication, that the data supporting the results in the Review will be available for download by users. Data are shared within the published Review directly from RevMan and author(s) will be responsible for assessing all data for quality, accuracy and completeness during editorial stages.
